READINGS

First Reading: Isaiah 25:6-9

<sup>6</sup> On this mountain the Lord of hosts will make for all peoples a feast of rich food, a feast of well-aged wine, of rich food full of marrow, of aged wine well refined.

<sup>7</sup> And he will swallow up on this mountain
the covering that is cast over all peoples,
the veil that is spread over all nations.

<sup>8</sup> He will swallow up death forever;
and the Lord God will wipe away tears from all faces,
and the reproach of his people he will take away from all the earth,
for the Lord has spoken.

<sup>9</sup> It will be said on that day,
“Behold, this is our God; we have waited for him, that he might save us.
This is the Lord; we have waited for him;
let us be glad and rejoice in his salvation.”

Second Reading: Philippians 4:4-13

<sup>4</sup> Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice. <sup>5</sup> Let your reasonableness be known to everyone. The Lord is at hand; <sup>6</sup> do not be anxious about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. <sup>7</sup> And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. <sup>8</sup> Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. <sup>9</sup> What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me—practice these things, and the God of peace will be with you. <sup>10</sup> I rejoiced in the Lord greatly that now at length you have revived your concern for me. You were indeed concerned for me, but you had no opportunity. <sup>11</sup> Not that I am speaking of being in need, for I have learned in whatever situation I am to be content. <sup>12</sup> I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. <sup>13</sup> I can do all things through him who strengthens me.

Gospel: Matthew 22:1-14

<sup>1</sup> And again Jesus spoke to them in parables, saying, <sup>2</sup> “The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son, <sup>3</sup> and sent his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding feast, but they would not come. <sup>4</sup> Again he sent other servants, saying, ‘Tell those who are invited, “See, I have prepared my dinner, my oxen and my fat calves have been slaughtered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding feast.”’ <sup>5</sup> But they paid no attention and went off, one to his farm, another to his business, <sup>6</sup> while the rest seized his servants, treated them shamefully, and killed them. <sup>7</sup> The king was angry, and he sent his troops and destroyed those murderers and burned their city. <sup>8</sup> Then he said to his servants, ‘The wedding feast is ready, but those invited were not worthy. <sup>9</sup> Go therefore to the main roads and invite to the wedding feast as many as you find.’ <sup>10</sup> And those servants went out into the roads and gathered all whom they found, both bad and good. So the wedding hall was filled with guests. <sup>11</sup> “But when the king came in to look at the guests, he saw there a man who had no wedding garment. <sup>12</sup> And he said to him, ‘Friend, how did you get in here without a wedding garment?’ And he was speechless. <sup>13</sup> Then the king said to the attendants, ‘Bind him hand and foot and cast him into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.’ <sup>14</sup> For many are called, but few are chosen.”

WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL

Pentecost 19 - October 11, 2020

'Friend, how did you get in here without a wedding garment? - Matthew 22:12

Jesus' parable of the wedding feast seems like it will have a happy ending, but then there's an unexpected twist. The king in the story threw a wedding feast for his son and invited many notable guests. Each and every one of them had an excuse as to why they couldn't make it. ["It's the only day I get to sleep in," some said. Others said, "I don't like the kind of music they play at that banquet hall." And still others remarked, "I have no real excuse, I just don't want to go."] In the face of mass rejection, the king sent his servants out to invite all manner of people from the streets to come and eat this fantastic, already prepared meal. What a treat!

At this point, it sounds like all's well that end's well, right? Wrong. One impromptu guest comes in to the banquet and he is not dressed in his wedding finest. This doesn't mean he has shorts and a t-shirt on, rather, he wasn't prepared for a wedding party. We cannot expect that people off the street were dressed in fancy clothes, so something else must be going on here. The man's outfit, whatever that looked like, was a reflection of a heart that just wasn't into the party. He came on his own terms and not on the terms of the king. Those who come to Jesus on their own terms are not worthy of the kingdom.

What can this possibly mean? To come to Jesus on one's own terms? This parable is a bit mysterious, to be sure, but perhaps it is pointing each of us to assess our own motivations. Are we "all in" with Jesus? Or are we struggling to let go of control over everything in our life and give it over to the Lord? If the second one is the case, what would it take for us to be willing to put on that wedding garment? We know the power of the Holy Spirit is working in our lives and in the life of the world. Maybe we could ask the Spirit to fill us with a deeper love for Christ, a deeper commitment to his church, a deeper passion for the mission of God. I don't know about you but when I think of this wedding feast, I think to myself, "I sure want to be there and I hope I'm wearing the right attire." I hope I have an attitude toward Christ that the Father finds pleasing. I don't want him to come over and boot me out of the party! May we all have open hearts for Christ! Amen
