CALLING ALL LADIES

Ladies of Bible, Bethel Lutheran Church will be hosting the WOW meeting, this evening @ 6 pm. The program will be a presentation by Blue Sky Acres. BSA is an organization that works to improve the lives of individuals facing challenges (emotional, physical and/or mental) through relationships with horses and Christian principles. Attendees are asked to bring a donation to this ministry. These meetings provide an opportunity for LCMC women in Effingham to get together and do God's work. Hope to see you there!

MEN OF BIBLE GROUP

The MOB group will gather on Sunday evening, May 15, 6pm for their quarterly meeting and cookout. Contact Ron Morgan (547-0707) or Ken Thompson (665-6850) if you can help.

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHURCH COUNCIL PRESIDENT

To our congregation,

The current call committee is moving along with our associate pastor search and council is beginning the process for calling a senior pastor. We do not know the timing of when these searches will be fulfilled, but when they are, a special congregational meeting is required. The meeting could be announced as quickly as two to three weeks out.

Since both of these decisions will have such a long-term impact on our church, we want everyone to be involved. Please make every effort to keep in compliance with our constitution voting requirements of: In the prior three month period 1) attend at least one service, 2) receive Holy Communion, and 3) household donation to general fund of at least $25.00.

Besides this, Christ and the rest of us do enjoy having you worshipping with us and would love to catch up! Thank you all for your continued prayers in these endeavors. Please keep the members of the call committee and council in your prayers. All need God's hand either as a comfort or as guidance in this journey that you have entrusted us with.

Yours in Christ,
Harrold B. Wheeler, Jr., President

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION NEWS

The Christian Ed Committee is recruiting Summer Sunday School teachers to serve June 5, 12, 19, 26 and July 3, 10, 17, 24, 31. Materials and training will be provided. Call Dawn to volunteer, 912-507-1876, or sign up for a week or two on the sheet in the hallway. We would like to give our regular teachers a little break over summer. (Bring a friend as your "classroom aide" and double your fun!)

DINE & DEVOTION

Our Wednesday evening Dine & Devotion will be hosted by Finance/Stewardship/Staff Support this week. Plan to join us for food, fellowship and a short devotion!

Our Lord has written the promise of the resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in spring-time. ~
Martin Luther

A dead Christ I must do everything for; a living Christ does everything for me.

I will extol you, O LORD, for you have drawn me up and have not let my foes rejoice over me. O LORD my God, I cried to you for help, and you have healed me. O LORD, you have brought up my soul from Sheol; you restored me to life from among those who go down to the pit. Sing praises to the LORD, O you his saints, and give thanks to his holy name. For his anger is but for a moment, and his favor is for a lifetime. Weeping may tarry for the night, but joy comes with the morning. As for me, I said in my prosperity, “I shall never be moved.” By your favor, O LORD, you made my mountain stand strong; you hid your face; I was dismayed. To you, O LORD, I cry, and to the Lord I plead for mercy: “What profit is there in my death, if I go down to the pit? Will the dust praise you? Will it tell of your faithfulness?”

Just as day was breaking, Jesus stood on the shore; yet the disciples did not know that it was Jesus. Jesus said to them, “Children, do you have any fish?” They answered him, “No.” He said to them, “Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some.” So they cast it, and now they were not able to haul it in, because of the quantity of fish. That disciple whom Jesus loved therefore said to Peter, “It is the Lord!” When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he put on his outer garment, for he was stripped for work, and threw himself into the sea. The other disciples came in the boat, dragging the net full of fish, for they were not far from the land, but about a hundred yards off. ... Now none of the disciples dared ask him, “Who are you?” They knew it was the Lord.

The History of Sunday School

Today as we gather to worship at the Sunday School Convention, you may have wondered how the idea of Sunday schools came about. Well, originally, Sunday schools were literally schools; they were places where poor children could learn to read. The Sunday school movement began in Britain in the 1780s. The Industrial Revolution had resulted in many children spending all week long working in factories without time for any type of education. Christian philanthropists, wanting to free these children from a life of illiteracy, felt compelled to do something, but the children were working such long hours formal education seemed impossible. The first modest legislative restrictions on child labor didn't come into place until 1802. This resulted in limiting the number of hours a child could work per day to 12! This limit was not lowered again until 1844. Saturday was part of the regular work week; Sunday, therefore, was the only available time for these children to receive some education.

English Anglican evangelical, Robert Raikes (1725-1811), was the key promoter of the movement which soon spread to America. Denominations and non-denominational organizations caught the vision and energetically began to create Sunday schools. Within decades, the movement had become extremely popular. By the mid-19th century, Sunday school attendance was a near universal aspect of childhood. Even parents who did not regularly attend church themselves generally insisted that their children go to Sunday school. Working-class families were grateful for this opportunity for their children to receive an education. They also looked forward to annual highlights such as prize days, parades, and picnics, which came to mark the calendars of their lives as much as more traditional seasonal holidays.

In 1824, the American Sunday School Union was formed and the first National Sunday School Convention was held in Philadelphia in 1832, with 15 states represented among its 220 delegates. Bible Societies sprang up during the late 1800's and set as one of their first tasks the job of obtaining a copy of the Holy Bible for every Sunday school student who desired one. The Sunday School movement had reached it's zenith by the 1840s, but the after-effects have continued until today.

In 1863, speaking to the House of Representatives, Pennsylvania congressman William D. Kelley (1814-1890) spoke,

"Once in seven days comes the Sabbath; and from hillside and valley, from the lanes and alleys, as well as from the broad streets of the city, the children gather in the church and Sunday School; there they learn that Christianity enforces while it refines... ."
